Otherwise, the representation shall not be granted or vote shall be not issued.

The validity of proxies granted and votes remotely cast is subject to verification — based on the information provided to the Company by Iberclear — of the standing of the shareholder no less than five days in advance of the date on which the relevant General Meeting is to be held. In case of any discrepancy between the number of shares notified by the shareholder granting a proxy or casting a remote vote and the information in the book entries registers notified by Iberclear, the number of shares provided by the latter shall, unless otherwise proven, be deemed to be valid for the purposes of quorum and voting, under the terms established in the General Meeting Regulations.

Prior to being granted a proxy, the proposed proxy holder shall provide the granting shareholder with detailed information on any existing conflict of interests. If any conflict of interests arises subsequent to proxy being granted and the relevant proxy holder had not informed the granting shareholder of its eventual existence, the proxy holder shall give the granting shareholder immediate notice thereof. In both cases, where proxy holders had not being issued with new detailed voting instructions for each of the items to be voted by relevant the proxy holder, proxy holders shall abstain from casting a vote.

Where a proxy had been validly granted according to the Law and the General Meeting Regulations but does not include voting instructions or where doubts arise as to the holder or the scope of the proxy, it shall be understood that (i) the proxy is granted to the Chairman of the Board of Directors or, alternatively, in case of the absence of the former or when the Chairman is ineligible to vote due to a conflict of interests, to the Vice-chairman of the Board or, alternatively, in the case of absence of the latter or when the Vice-chairman is ineligible to vote due to a conflict of interests, to the Coordinating Director (all the foregoing subject to the provisions below on potential specific cases of conflicts of interests provided for in LSC); (ii) the proxy is referred to all proposed resolutions submitted by the Board of Directors; (iii) the proxy includes a favorable vote to all proposed resolutions submitted by the Board of Directors; and (iv) the proxy shall also extend to any matters that may arise outside the Agenda, with respect to which the proxy holder shall cast the vote in the most favourable way to the interests of the represented shareholder in the framework of corporate interest.

In the event the Chairman of the Board or any other director is in any of the cases of conflict of interest included in letters a), b), c) or d) of Article 526.1 LSC, (appointment, re-appointment or ratification of directors; dismissal, separation or termination of directors; subject to legal proceedings initiated by the Company; or, approval or ratification of transactions of the Company with the relevant director), which may arise outside of Agenda in accordance with the Law, if the represented shareholder had not issued detailed voting instructions, unless otherwise expressly stated therein, the proxy shall be understood to be granted, joint and severally and successively, to the Chairman of the General Meeting and, where the latter were himself in any conflict of interests, to the Secretary to the General Meeting.

The following rules regarding the priority of proxies, remote vote and attendance at the Meeting shall apply:

- Personal attendance at the Meeting by the shareholder having previously granted a proxy or voted remotely, irrespective of the means used for casting the vote, will render said proxy or vote ineffective.
- When the shareholder validly grants a proxy via electronic communication and, additionally, also grants the proxy via the printed Attendance Card issued by either the entity or entities in charge of managing the book entries registers or by the Company, the latter shall prevail over any proxy electronically granted, regardless of their respective dates of granting.
- Without prejudice to other specific norms, where a shareholder validly grants several proxies or casts several votes electronically, the latest proxy granted, or the latest vote cast, received by the Company within the established timeframe shall prevail.
- Both proxies and the vote remotely cast shall be rendered without effect by the disposal of the shares entitling to attend the relevant General Meeting, of which the Company is aware of, no less than five days in advance to scheduled date of the relevant General Meeting.

Joint holders of a deposit of shares may vote, grant a proxy or attend and the foregoing rules of priority shall apply. For the purposes of Article 126 LSC, any joint holder acting at any given time (proxy, vote or attendance) shall be deemed to be appointed by the remaining joint holders to exercise their shareholder rights.

The Company shall make available to the shareholders on its website (www.alantra.com) the forms that should be used to grant a proxy and to remote voting by postal mail or electronically.

Where the shareholder is a legal entity, its shall be required, where appropriate and at the request of the Company, issue a copy of the sufficient powers of attorney evincing the authority of the individual granting the proxy or casting the remote vote. Shareholders shall give the Company notice of any change or revocation of the powers granted to their proxy holders; accordingly, the Company accepts no liability whatsoever until the relevant notice is given.
