Investment Banking

1. The market: Investment Banking

- After a difficult first half of 2025, impacted by tariff wars and geo-political tensions, the macroeconomic environment is showing cautious signs of improvement, with a gradual recovery in investor confidence and capital allocation dynamics.
- While inflation and financing conditions showed gradual normalization towards the end of the year, M&A and Capital Markets activity began to stabilize, with a noticeably more constructive market sentiment emerging.
- The global M&A market continued to modestly shrink in terms of deal count (-4% YoY)¹, but experienced a strong revival in terms of aggregate deal value (+c.40% YoY)¹ primarily prompted by a strong growth in mega deals (+$10bn) during the year (+c.80% YoY).²
- In contrast, the global mid-market experienced a similar trend in deal count (-4% YoY), while deal value growth remained modest (+3% YoY).
- European mid-market activity remained subdued, with mixed performance across key geographies. France was materially impacted (-20.4% YoY in deal value), while Germany outperformed (+5.6% YoY).
- Capital markets activity remains depressed, with European IPO volumes at multi-year lows.

I. Glossary (i)

Identified Business Segments

“Business Segments” refers to each operating segment identified and classified as such by Alantra that (a) engages in business activities from which it may earn revenues and incur expenses (including revenues and expenses relating to transactions with other operating units of the group); (b) whose operating results are regularly reviewed by the entity’s chief operating decision maker to allocate resources and assess its performance; and (c) for which discrete financial information is available.

“Investment Banking” is defined as a Business Segment of Alantra comprising Financial Advisory services provided to corporate clients, institutional clients, and financial institutions, in corporate transactions, credit portfolio transactions, other services aimed at balance sheet optimization, and the provision of research and brokerage services.

“Asset Management” is an identified Business Segment of Alantra comprising the management, marketing, and advisory of investment vehicles for institutional investors, high-net-worth individuals, or other professional investors, as well as the group’s direct investments in such vehicles (Portfolio).

“Structure” is defined as a Business Segment of Alantra which includes all income and expenses associated to Alantra’s governance and development structure (corporate governance, strategic management, corporate and business development, and corporate services such as accounting and reporting, risk control, IT systems, HR management, and legal services, among others). These activities are not directly attributable to other Business Segments, as they relate to the parent company – as a listed entity – or to the overall management of the group. The segment also includes billing for services to Alantra Group companies considered associates (i.e., not consolidated using the full integration method). The organizational structure of the corporate and business structure of the Group, along with the relevance of services associated with the Structure, justifies its classification as an independent segment.

“Others” by default, includes all items not corresponding to any of the Business Segments (i.e., not Investment Banking, Asset Management, or Structure). It mainly captures the impact of extraordinary transactions on results, arising from the parent company’s investments in entities engaged in those activities (e.g., changes in value of equity interests or goodwill impairments).

Annex

I. Glossary (ii)

Alternative Performance Measures

“Alternative Performance Measures (APM)” are defined as financial metrics of past or future performance, financial position, or cash flows that are not defined or specified within the applicable financial reporting framework.

“Fee Business Net Profit” is defined as the profit derived from advisory or management services (i.e., those in the Investment Banking, Asset Management, and Structure segments), where revenues primarily consist of fees or commissions and costs that are mainly personnel-related. The 100% allocation of the Structure segment to the Fee Business is justified by the fact that its time and resources are largely dedicated to supporting the growth and operations of the Investment Banking and Asset Management segments. This measure is particularly relevant because various APMs are built upon it.

- It is calculated by aggregating the net profit attributable to the parent company from the Investment Banking, Asset Management, and Structure segments, excluding profits or losses from direct investments in investment vehicles (mainly in the Asset Management segment), and from the parent company’s investments in operating companies (e.g., fair value adjustments, goodwill impairments, or FX gains/losses), which are instead recorded under the “Others” segment.
- The distinct nature of these profits supports the separate disclosure of Net Profit from the Fee Business and the Portfolio Business in public disclosures.

“Portfolio Net Profit” is defined as the profit generated from investments and subsequent divestments in equity holdings, investment funds, or other vehicles managed by the Alantra Group, achieved primarily through the Asset Management Business Segment.

- The differentiation between Portfolio Net Profit and Fee Business profit supports their separate disclosure across public reporting.

“Ordinary Net Profit” refers to the profit generated from the Group’s core operating activities, namely those within the Business Segments (Investment Banking, Asset Management, and Structure). It is calculated as the sum of the Fee Business Net Profit and the Portfolio Net Profit.

- Ordinary Net Profit is a relevant indicator compared to total net profit attributable to the parent company, as it helps distinguish the portion of earnings derived from typical operations versus those resulting from extraordinary, non-recurring transactions or accounting adjustments.

“Financial Leverage” is defined as the total amount of debt the Group owes to banks, credit institutions, and similar entities to finance its operations. It excludes debt to employees, suppliers, or consolidated group entities/shareholders, as well as liabilities to financial institutions with matching assets of the same amount.

- It is calculated as the sum of all items under “Debts with credit institutions and bonds or other negotiable securities” that meet the definition criteria. As of December 31, 2025, the Group had no financial debt.
- Financial Debt is a relevant indicator for evaluating the Group’s consolidated financial position.

Annex

I. Glossary (iii)

“Cash and liquid assets” are defined as cash and other financial assets that are readily convertible into cash. This includes the total amount reported under “Cash and cash equivalents”, as well as other current and non-current financial assets that meet the criteria of immediate availability.

“Pay Out” refers to the percentage of profits distributed by the company to shareholders.

- It is calculated as the ratio between the total amount distributed to shareholders over a period (as dividend or reserves/share premium distribution) and the consolidated net profit attributable to the parent company for that same period.
- The Pay Out indicates to what extent shareholder returns are financed by the profits generated during the period.

“Dividend Yield” is defined as the return received by shareholders through dividend-related distributions.

- It is calculated as the ratio of the total per-share amount distributed by the company during a given period (dividends, reserves, or share premium distributions) to the share price on a specific date (as defined when this measure is mentioned).
- Shareholder return consists of both share price appreciation and dividend-related distributions. Dividend Yield is the reference indicator for the latter.
